FLOOR DEBATE

LR 11

may not deem to be the most healthy for themselves, but still they are adults, they should have the right to choose. We're not even going that far with this particular proposal. What we're doing is saying we think the people should have the right to vote on whether they wish to have some form of gaming, such as casinos, or electronic devices with casinos at the local level. So it's, you know I won't go so far as to say it's about freedom, but it is about giving the people some opportunity to choose. And if they have...if they want to make a choice, and I firmly believe they do, I think we have the obligation to give them at least one decent choice; that if it isn't all prepared and drawn properly, we have the right to come in here, change the method of division of revenue, to put more controls on it, to use 20 percent of the money for Gamblers Anonymous, or to do whatever we think is in the best interest of the people. So I think it is somewhat consistent with some of the other decisions we've made and will make at this session. So I do urge you to find a way to support this amendment and to advance it on to Final Reading. Thank you.

SENATOR CUDABACK: Thank you, Senator Bromm. Senator Engel, followed by Senators Maxwell, Senator Don Pederson, Senator Johnson, Senator Landis, Senator Kremer, Senator Janssen. Senator Engel. Oh, I'm sorry about that. Senator Engel.

SENATOR ENGEL: I promise not to talk very long, Mr. President.

SENATOR CUDABACK: You may continue. We'll start your time over.

SENATOR ENGEL: Mr. President, members of the body, (laugh) what Senator Chambers is talking in his...as far as the military term, he was talking about the bow and the stern, and the fore and the aft. Evidently, he has never been in the Marines. So I know a few people here have been in the Marines, and if he didn't tell us how to tell time, that's where the big hand is on twelve, and the little hand is on six. That's six o'clock, morning or evening, in case you wanted to know that. But what I really want to talk about is this particular amendment, I like half of it. I like half of it. I like Senator Bromm's half, limiting the number. And what I like out of Senator Pederson's
